5:30 pm – 6:30 pm	Cocktail Reception, DeSales University
6:30 pm – 8:30 pm	Awards Ceremony and Dinner, DeSales University
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 2010
7:00 am – 8:00 am	Registration & Breakfast
7:15 am – 8:00 am	Practice Showcase
8:00 am – 8:30 am	Welcome
8:30 am – 10:00 am	Keynote Address: Trading on Trust John Field, RN, PhD, BLegSt, DNE, FRCNA, FCN	This session explores the phenomenon of murder by nurses. Looking past the shock and horror, it considers both the ways in which nursing is impacted by these crimes and the role played by nurses in enabling their commission. It is argued that almost any nursing workplace could play host to a nurse who is a serial killer and guidance is provided as to how to avoid such eventualities.
10:00 am – 10:30 am	Break & Practice Showcase
10:30 am – 11:30 am	Decision-Making, Autonomy and Control Over Practice Marla Weston, PhD, RN CEO, American Nurses Assoc.	This session addresses ways to increase the decision-making role of the hospital nurse – in short, nurse influence and power.
11:30 am – 12:30 pm	Panel Discussion: “Nurse Peer Review”	Facilitator: Madeline Albanese, MSN, RN Manager, Nursing Performance Improvement Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania Panel members: Diane Lawson, MSN, RN, CEN Nicole Reimer, RN, BSN, OCN
12:30 pm – 1:15 pm	Lunch & Practice Showcase
1:15 pm – 2:15 pm	Legal & Ethical Issues Dealing with Challenging Patients Margaret F. Costella, JD, MPH	This session discusses the four principles in medical ethics and how they impact dealing with difficult patients.
2:15 pm – 2:30 pm	Break & Practice Showcase
2:30 pm – 3:30 pm	Nursing Practice Breakdowns Zane Robinson Wolf, PhD, RN, FAAN	This session will analyze nurses’ commitment to “good” care and the meaning of doing good work in nursing practice. The contribution of communication breakdowns to sentinel events and gray zones in clinical practice and the dark side of nursing will be discussed, along with accidental and intentional nursing practice breakdowns.
3:30 pm – 4:30 pm	Silence Kills: The Seven Crucial Conversations® for Healthcare Candace Bertotti, Master Certified Trainer in Crucial Conversations®	This session discusses how to prevent “accidents waiting to happen” by learning how to recognize and address these behaviors that put safety at risk. Based on the results found in the groundbreaking study, “Silence Kills: The Seven Crucial Conversations for Healthcare,” vital behaviors were identified to equip individuals at all levels of an organization with crucial skills. Once acquired, these skills drive dramatic improvements in patient safety, quality and work environment.
